

Nahant & Swampscott Democratic Town Committee Fundraiser

Tingle's performance was politically topical and delivered with a great humorist's insight into the delightful absurdities of everyday life. There was no foul language, no embarrassing innuendo, no cruelties.

People left Jimmy Tingle's performance laughing, happy, repeating lines they loved with smiles on their faces and, frankly, ready to participate in social and political life with purpose and gusto but without bitterness in their hearts.

Jim Walsh,
Chair of the Nahant Democratic Town Committee, April 2016

...in the final analysis, our most basic common link is that we all inhabit this small planet. We all breathe the same air. We all cherish our children's future. And we are all mortal.

*John F. Kennedy
American University, June 10, 1963*